DRY GOODS MARKET.

PORT OF RICHMOND, AUGUST 23, 1910.

FIOIK Stock Market

New York, August 23.—From a very weak opening, to-day's stock market turned rather sharply, and made general recovery. Trading was again very contracted and limited to the usual market leaders—Reading, the Harrimans and United States Steel—these comprising fully 60 per cent of the day's small overturn. The early weakness was in no small measure due to selling for London account, or at least to unloading, which was traceable to that quarter. London has sold almost daily in this market for the past fortnight, and while sales at no time has been very heavy, the aggregate has been sufficient to leave its impress here.

The local market ruled steady and dull to the close, with a majority of small net gains. In the early session, Reading was about the weakest feature, the selling being coupled with the reports that the July statement of earnings, soon to be issued, would prove disappointing. Other active stocks fell in sympathy, and for a brief time the list was apparently without support.

Latest developments in the political situation were accepted with more equanimity, President Taft's exposition of the 'incidents leading up to the recent meeting of the Republican State Committee in this city being regarded as strong evidence of a better understanding between the administration and Colonel Roosevelt. The latter's tour of the country will be watched with absorbing interest, and more so since it has been intimated that his speeches will deal rather more with future than past events.

The disastrous forest fires in Montana, Idaho and adjacent section, together with the large losses already incurred, and the resultant effect on the railroads and industries of that territory, were matters of discussion, but could segreely be considered a market at every favorable opportunity, but is showing increasing warness as the persent of money, further proof was fired to-day of the beginning of a money outflow to the coming mo

Speakers Will Come From Washington
To-Night to Join Party.

A great deal of interest, it is stated, is being taken by the peonle of the Tidewater region in the steamboat institutes which will be held during the remainder of this week. The first of these affairs will be at Claremont, in Surry county, to-day.

Speakers for the first day's meeting will be: Professor S. B. Heiges, of Herndon; W. W. Sproul, of Augusta: Deputy Dairy and Food Commissioner Benjamin L. Purcell, Register of the Land Office John W. Richardson and T. C. Johnson, of the Truck Experiment Station, near Norfolk,
To-night Commissioner of Agriculture George W. Koiner, Assistant J. J. Owen, W. D. Zinn, of West Virginia, and J. F. Gordon, of Ohio, will leave Washington by boat for Norfolk to join the party. These speakers have been busy this week holding an institute on the Bluemont division of the Southern Rallway, between Alexandria and Bluemont. The Old Dominion boat will go to Norfolk to-night and plok them up there to-morrow morning, and the boat will then proceed to Smith field, Isle of Wight county, where the next institute will be held.

Friday's institute will be at Gloucester Courthouse, and Saturday's at Mathews Courthouse. NAVAL STORDS.

Steamer Aurora, Barrett, Petersburg and James River landings, merchandise and passengers, Phillips Line.

SAILED.

Steamer Brandon, Harney Norfolk man. Nevels Caught in Chicago.

The Governor yesterday issued a requisition on the Governor of Illinois for J. C. Nevels, a colored man, who was charged in 1994 with stealing a $400 diamond ring from a Norfolk concern. He is also supposed to have been engaged in sundry forkerles, connected, perhaps, with insurance matters, in Suffolk. Nevels is described as looking very much like an Indian.

He escaped at the time of the crimes, and the Chiefs of Police of Suffolk and Norfolk have since been engaged in a hunt for him, which has been finally successful. The arrest was recently made in Chicago. Chief Detective W. P., Ford, of the Norfolk force, went to Chicago after the man.

Pace Continued.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Boydton. Va., August 23.—John L.

Hendrick. who was shot by William Pace, at South Hill, on Saturday night and was thought to have been mortally wounded, was taken to the Virginia Hospital, in Richmond, yesterday. Mr. Hendricks showed great nerve, and remarked to some of his friends before leaving that they thought he was going to die, but that he would get well. The trial of Mr. Pace has been continued until the results of Mr. Hendrick's wounds are ascertained.
